ACTIVITY REPORT

Academic Session 2021-22

The variety of "new" books

1. The variety of "new" books is increasing rapidly. This is due to the fact that the publishing industry is becoming more and more competitive. As a result, publishers are looking for new and exciting titles to attract readers.

2. One of the reasons for this increase in variety is the growing interest in non-fiction. Readers are now more interested in learning about the world around them, and this has led to a surge in non-fiction titles.

3. Another reason for the increase in variety is the growing interest in fiction. Readers are now more interested in stories that are different and exciting, and this has led to a surge in fiction titles.

4. The variety of "new" books is also increasing due to the growing interest in children's books. Parents are now more interested in books that are educational and entertaining, and this has led to a surge in children's book titles.

5. Finally, the variety of "new" books is increasing due to the growing interest in self-help books. Readers are now more interested in books that help them improve themselves, and this has led to a surge in self-help book titles.

Only 14 percent students of the state take admission in science stream : Ranuj Pegu

Assam Rising
Nagarn, December 11

The state education minister Dr Ranuj Pegu attended the ongoing 66th annual conference of Assam College Teachers' Association (ACTA) here at Nowgong Girls' College today. Referring to the new education policy 2020, the minister said it is a specific transitional period of time for state education and this new policy, initiated by the government, will boost the state education system as like other states of India. Pointing out the comparatively poor participation of students in study of science, he however stated that over 45 percent students in Bihar availed the privilege to study in science stream whereas in Assam only a 14 percent students currently took admission in science stream. Besides, noting the poor performance of the state in all India level competitive examinations, he suggested the teachers' community to set up Self-Entrepreneurship Cell and Career Counselling Cell in almost all higher institutions of the state. Significantly, the minister also assured that all the issues or problems relating to the community would be settled soon. Besides, he assured that the higher secondary level would be shifted from all colleges by 2023 sharply and it would be merged with high schools. During the session, the teachers' community demanded to restore the old pension scheme instead of a new pension plan for the college teachers. Local MLA Rupa Kumar also greeted the minister along with the minister. More than 600 representatives and delegates from across the state participated in the conference. 5

Activity Title	Lecture Programme on 'Changing Dimension of Budget in a Developing Society with special reference to India'
Date	January 28, 2022
Organised by	Department of Political Science
Note	The Department organised a lecture programme on Changing Dimension of Budget in a Developing Society with special reference to India. Deepak Sarma, Associate Professor, Department of Economics was the resource person of the event. He lucidly explained the basic principles of budget, impact on domestic capital goods sector, sectors like fertilizers, textiles, footwear, food processing etc. He also highlighted the role of budget in economic development of India and in the downtrodden sections of the Indian society. He pointed out that the adoption of neo-liberal policies since 1991 has drastically changed the nature of budget in recent years. The welfare aspect has been gradually minimised which has adversely affected the marginalised sections of the society, he observed. He emphasised on the need of dedicated efforts towards achieving the goal of self-reliance and making the dream of Atmanirbhar Bharat a reality through positive budget interventions.
