We have responded to this challenge with online classes and e-learning facilities so that teaching-learning process is continued for benefits of our students. We have also taken steps like frequent sanitisation of the campus, mandatory wearing of mask, ensuring availability of soaps and sanitizers etc. as safety and security of the students is our prime concern.

OUR HISTORY

The need for a dedicated institution of higher education exclusively for women in the central Assam region was felt during the late 1950's. In order to fill that void, several eminent personalities and educationists came together to establish the 'Nowgong Women's College' in 1959. Dr. Lalit Kr. Baruah was the founder secretary and Professor Nirmal Chandra Samaddar of Nowgong College served as the acting Principal of the institution. However, owing to the demise of Dr. Lalit Kr. Baruah in June, 1960 the institution ceased to exist.

However, the spark of opening a women's college was still in the heart of many people and accordingly in June 1962 a formal discussion to establish such an institution was held in the Office of the Deputy Commissioner of Nowgong. In this meeting a Steering Committee was formed for the said purpose. On 8th July 1962 some members of the Steering Committee met the then Education Minister of Assam Debakanta Baruah for establishing a women's college in Nowgong. The first meeting of the Steering Committee was held on 11th July 1962 in the Deputy Commissioner's office, chaired by the then Deputy Commissioner of Nowgong Satish Jivan Das, IAS. Distinguished personalities like Haladhar Bhyuan, Usha Borthakur, Begum Afia Ahmed, Mahesh Chandra Devgoswami, Sarat Chandra Goswami, Golak Chandra Baruah, Liladhar Katoki (Member of Parliament), Lakhi Prasad Goswami (MLA), S.D. Sarma, Chandra Kanta Sarma, Md. Samsul Huda, Md. Nurul Amin, Dombaru Gogoi, C.C. Barman and Kamal Chandra Majumdar were present in the meeting. The Committee decided to start Pre-University and Degree course simultaneously in the College. The Committee decided to name the college as Nowgong Women's College. The Steering Committee formed a Sub-Committee to speed up the establishment of the College with the following office-bearers-

1. Satish Jivan Das, IAS, Deputy Commissioner, Nowgong (President)
2. Dombaru Gogoi, Inspector of Schools, Nowgong (General Secretary)
3. Mahesh Chandra Devgoswami (Joint Secretary)
4. Md. Nurul Amin (Joint Secretary)
5. Md. Samsul Huda (Assistant Joint Secretary)
6. Usha Borthakur (Member)
7. Ramnath Sarma (Member)
8. Khirod Kumar Baruah (Member)

Lal Chand Todi, a prominent businessman of Nowgong, promised to provide a significant financial assistance for the establishment of the College. Therefore, in the meeting of the Steering Committee held on 4th September 1962, a decision was taken to rename the College as L.C. Todi Women's College. On 15th November 1962 the name of the College was changed to L.C. Todi Girls' College. On 5th September 1962, Mahesh Chandra Devgoswami was appointed as the first Principal of the College. The College commenced its academic activities with 42 students in the P.U. level and 22 students in the Degree level. Formal classes of the College started on 12th September 1962.

Bimala Prasad Chaliha, the then Chief Minister of Assam, formally inaugurated the College on 20th September 1962. Initially the classes were held in the premises of Nowgong College; later the College was shifted to the Red-Cross Building at Amolapatty. On 23rd December 1966, the College was renamed as Nowgong Girls' College and in 1968, it was finally shifted to its present campus on the bank of River Kolong. Since its inception, our College has passed through various phases of evolution and has completed 50 years of its glorious existence in 2012. The College was re-accredited at A Grade by the NAAC in 2015. In 2018, Science Stream at the undergraduate level was introduced at Nowgong Girls' College.

Contribution Towards the Society

In its long journey this study center had contributed a lot in the field of distance education. Every year this center provided opportunity of higher education to hundreds of learners who could not complete education in formal mode. Many dropped out and deprived learners got themselves enrolled and fulfilled their aspiration of higher education. The study center also organized teacher training programmes (D.El.Ed) to the teachers deputed by the govt of Assam and those teachers have been working for the expansion of education in the state mostly in the remote areas. Passed out learners from this study center have been serving in different sectors of the state. Many women who were just house wives before their entry to this study Centre, now got the opportunity to obtain graduation, even master degree through this institution which contributed a lot towards gender equality. Moreover a good number of retired persons from govt job, already higher educated , are also studying of this Centre in order to fulfill their thirst of knowledge . And in this way this study Centre have been serving the purpose of 'education beyond barriers' beyond the barrier of age, academic background or geographical barriers.
