The Science and Philosophy of Religion: A Comparative study of Sankhya, Vedanta and other Systems of Thought

Dr Namita Kalita

Assistant Professor, Department of Philosophy
Nowgong Girls' College

It is clear and concise statement of the daring claim made by sages of India, from very old times, that they have attained to such unity in the religious field and succeeded in bringing religion to the rank of a perfect and complete science. The methods adopted by them to come to this result—were the same as followed by all the sciences of the present day, viz., observation and analysis of the facts of our experience, and a synthetical combination of the results obtained, to find out the same facts. The Kapila, Vyasa, Patanjali and indeed all the philosophers of India, including most of the Vedic seers, applied these methods in coming to their respective discoveries—has been fully discussed in this paper on the different Yogas.

The sources of this paper are eight lectures of Swami Vivekananda published in different volumes of his "Complete Works."

Key Words : Science, Philosophy, Religion, Sankhya, Vedanta, Tattvamasi, Yoga etc.
